TOP — This is the Third District Livestock Show Coliseum, photographed last Friday with all decorations in place for the week-long performances starting today.

LEFT — This year the Stock Show management has corrected the public address system, which made it difficult to hear stage performances in the past. The picture shows one of eight new high-fidelity speakers that have been installed throughout the Coliseum, three on either side and two above the stage. The speaker system was engineered by L. B. Tooley, general manager of Radio Station KXAR, and Victor Cobb, local RCA dealer, both of whom are licensed radio engineers. They contributed their talent and time without cost to the Stock Show — and tests last week disclosed that the new public address system carries the words of performers clearly to every section of the big Coliseum.

Third District Livestock Show Gets Underway

The 13th Annual Third District Livestock Show got underway officially here Monday, Sept. 23, with a huge parade that rated with the best in the history of the show.

Fair park, home of the district show, was a busy place today with stockmen getting their stock ready for judging, merchants putting the final touches on their displays in the Coliseum, the midway setting up for business tonight and the various organizations preparing displays in the exhibit halls.

Highlights of activities tonight will be a beauty pageant in which more than 15 young ladies from all over the district will compete for the title of Miss Third District Livestock Show of 1937. The lovely ladies began arriving this morning with headquarters at Hotel Barlow. During today they appeared on television at Texarkana and were guests at a luncheon at the Barlow. All the contestants appeared in the parade.

Master of Ceremonies for the pageant will be Chester Lauck of the famous comedy team of "Lum and Abner." Lum is a native of Mena, Arkansas and is well known throughout the United States. Another special guest tonight will be Miss Louisiana who will be one of the judges of tonight's pageant.

Tuesday and Wednesday nights in the Coliseum a stage show will be featured. Bob McFadden, comedian, will be master of ceremonies at the show which features such widely acclaimed acts as Loe Marx and Billie Jugglers, the Vagabonders, who have performed all over the world, Elizabeth and Collins, a breathtaking knife throwing act which is guaranteed to thrill the crowd, Al Antoucci's chimpanzees and many others.

A western parade will open the second half of the show Wednesday. Performing in the Coliseum the final three nights will be Gene Madison's widely acclaimed rodeo. Most of the stock to be used in the rodeo moved into Fair park yesterday. The rodeo is considered tops in its class.

Confidential Jury Deliberates

LOS ANGELES — Jurors in the Confidential magazine libel trial return to deliberations today after a restful Sunday of relaxation under the watchful eyes of a court bailiff. The six men and six women of the jury began deliberations Tuesday.

Convicted Airman Owed Gambling Debt

MOUNT VERNON, N. Y. — George A. French, Air Force captain sentenced to life imprisonment for trying to sell secret information to the Soviet Union, owed thousands of dollars in gambling debts, according to his wife and an Air Force spokesman.

Mrs. Dorothy G. French, who married the airman in 1941, said yesterday: "George was a gambler, not the racketeer type, but a devoted poker player. He loved the game. I never knew the extent of his poker playing until a month ago, when a mutual friend told me I'd better have a talk with him."

"I was told he was deep in debt, well into the thousands of dollars."

In Washington an Air Force spokesman said French had contracted a string of loans in connection with the gambling debts.

French's court martial and life sentence were disclosed last Saturday with an announcement that he had asked the Russians to buy atomic secrets.

The Air Force said French had been tried in secret at Barksdale Air Force Base, near Shreveport, La., by a seven-man court-martial. His family here heard of the trial after the conviction was announced.

Mrs. French said she wrote to her husband about the gambling but that he denied it. "All he told me," she said, "was 'stick by me. I am in trouble and I will need you.'"

Violence Breaks Out as 8 Negroes Enter the Little Rock School

Abandon Hopes For Lives of 87 Aboard Ship

PONTE DELAGADA, Azores (UP) — Hope was all but abandoned today for 87 youths aboard the four-masted German training bark Panitz, hit by the full fury of hurricane Carrie and feared to have foundered in mid-Atlantic.

The 52-year-old square rigged ship apparently sank with all hands some 600 miles off the Azores. There were 35 crew men and 52 sea cadets aboard, all between 16 and 18. It was the first trip to sea for many.

Germany went into national mourning after a U. S. Air Force search plane spotted two lifeboats and one life raft, all empty. The search for survivors continued throughout the night and today, but it was an almost hopeless task. Gusts up to 80 miles an hour churned the sea into mountainous waves.

The Western German television network cancelled its programs Sunday in mourning. Churches were thronged with anxious people praying for the safety of the boys, victims of the classic battle of man against the sea.

The Pamir radioed Saturday afternoon it had lost all sails in hurricane Carrie. Then came word the foremast was swept away. Since then there has been only silence though ships at sea kept open the international emergency radio channels.

The faint hope for giving families was that the ship had given the wrong position, and some experts said the ship could have been swept more than 100 miles beyond its reported position by the hurricane.

Five ships remained in the area searching for survivors.

Fate of Four Amvets Is Uncertain

WASHINGTON — The fate of four Army forts is now more than ever uncertain.

They are Fort Carson in Colorado, Fort Chaffee in Arkansas, Fort Gordon in Georgia and Fort Jackson in South Carolina.

Army spokesmen said today the future status of the forts—already a matter of study—necessarily would be further reviewed in light of the most recent cuts in military manpower.

They said, however, it is too early to tell just how soon a decision will be reached.

Shortly before the adjournment of Congress, Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) of the House Armed Services Committee quoted Secretary of the Army Brucker as stating that a cut of army personnel down to the 900,000 level almost certainly would mean the closing of the four forts.

At that time, the army's strength had been reduced to 950,000.

Last week Secretary of Defense Wilson announced there would be a further cut of 100,000 in personnel of the defense establishments, and officials said that 50,000 of this loss would be borne by the army.

This will bring the army down to around the 900,000 level when it is completed. The army has been requested to inform the Defense Secretary by Sept. 27 as to how it plans to go about a month-by-month reduction to the newly fixed level.

When this is done, top officials are expected to decide what installations, if any, will have to be shut down.

Small Atomic Device Is Fired Today

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nev. (AP) — A relatively small atomic device was fired at 5:30 a. m. today from a 500-foot tower on the Yucca flat testing grounds. It was the first "Whitney" shot, 22nd in the 1937 series.

The Atomic Energy Commission said the energy yield was more than half of nominal, which means the blast would have the equivalent of something more than 10,000 tons of TNT.

Persons watching the explosion from Angel's Peak, some 40 miles from the detonation point, estimated the power at around 15 kilotons or 15,000 tons of TNT. The nominal bombs dropped on Japan in World War II were rated at 20,000 tons.

Haiti Tense With Ballot Counting

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (UP) — Haiti today tensely awaited the counting of ballots in yesterday's national election, hopeful that whoever becomes president can bring peace to this land of turmoil.

But even as the counting began, partisans of ex-Sen. Louis Delors threatened to burn down Port au Prince.

A third candidate, Clement J. Duvalier, and his bitter political enemy Dr. Francois Duvalier claimed victory in the election of a president for the next six years.

A third candidate, Clement J. Amelle, called on voters to boycott the election. He charged "there was fraud."

The Ministry of Justice announced from a million to 1,300,000 of Haiti's 1,600,000 eligible voters cast ballots. This would indicate few headed Jumelle's call.

Women were eligible to vote for the first time.

For all the violence that has plagued Haiti since last December, when the first of a succession of five governments was heaved out, the voting was peaceful.

Provisional President Antonio Kerebau said that was only one fatality. A soldier shot down a voter who attacked him in the southern town of Jerniel. Minor incidents were reported at two other points.

Kerebau who seized power June 14 as head of a three-man military junta, maintained order with 2,500 well-armed soldiers and police.

First results are expected to be known this afternoon. No definite trend will be available before Wednesday due to long delays in reporting tabulations to Port au Prince.

Duvalier, 48, a Negro doctor, pledged honesty in government. He said he would seek U. S. and U. N. aid in developing the nation's agricultural and natural resources if elected.

Duvalier charged that supporters of Delors were using large sums of money to buy votes.

24 Hurt in Rock Island Train Wreck

PEABODY, Kan. (UP) — The Rock Island Railroad's Twin-Six Rock Island, headed from Minneapolis to Houston plied off the rails at the south edge of Peabody early today. Twenty-four were treated at hospitals for injuries.

Initial examination of the injured showed only one in serious condition. Wallace Hutchinson, 63, Wichita, Kan., had a possible skull fracture.

There was no indication of the cause of the wreck.

The Rock Island ran into trouble about 100 yards north of the point where the Rock Island and the Santa Fe cross on the south edge of Peabody.

Most of the injured were in two passenger coaches which landed at the crossover and on their sides. Both rail lines were blocked.

Mrs. Earl Bray Enid, Okla., said she was half asleep in the first passenger coach and her 12-year-old son Allen was asleep beside her.

"There was a terrific bang, bang, bang," she said. "The car toppled over. I was riding about five seats back and landed in a corner. I got up but was too weak to stand and they carried me out on the tracks. I thought for a time it was the end of the world. My son landed across the aisle."

John Watson, Sunday editor of the Topeka (Kan.) Capital, also was riding in the first coach, along with his wife.

Autumn Makes Appearance Over the U.S.

By The Associated Press

Autumn made its official entry today in seasonal style, spreading cool air from the Rockies to the Great Lakes region and southward into the southern Plains.

Summerlike weather prevailed in the Southeast and northward into New England. It was hot in the southwest desert region and fair and warm in other parts of the Far West.

The autumn season started at 2:27 a. m., EST.

The nippy fall air sent temperatures into the 30s in most of North Dakota and northern Minnesota. Readings were generally 10 to 20 degrees lower than yesterday morning from northern New England and southward through the lower Great Lakes region and the Ohio Valley. They were in the 50s in most areas.

In the warm eastern belt, marks of 70 were general, while they were in the 80s in the desert region. The 60s were the rule as far north as Washington in other parts of the West.

The cool air headed into the north and mid-Atlantic Coast states and the clash with the warm humid air triggered showers and thunderstorms. Nearly Continued on Page Two

Police Forced to Withdraw Negro Students

LITTLE ROCK Ark. (UP) — Little Rock High School officials withdrew the eight Negro students who entered Central High School today.

Mayor Woodrow Wilson Mann radioed an announcement at 12 o'clock (CST) "telling the crowd the Negroes have been removed from Central High School."

The radio announcement was sent to police officers at the scene.

LITTLE ROCK (UP) — Eight Negro pupils walked quietly, and without hurrying, into Central High School today while the crowd's attention was diverted by another incident — and then a swirl of snarling men and screaming women ried to break through police lines.

Police fought them off, clubbing two men, and apparently pulling a gun on another.

Pupils coming out of the school said three of the Negro boys who entered school had "looked on their clothing" and fights had broken outside the building.

The students told reporters the "Negroes were chased through the halls when classes changed" and were attacked by other students.

"The white violence" outside the school was a frightening sight. Women burst into tears and a man burst up on a wooden barricade, roared: "Who's going through?"

"We all are," the crowd shouted. They didn't.

The "drama-packed climax of three weeks of integration struggle in Little Rock came just after he buzzer sounded inside the big 2000-pupil high school at 8:45, signaling the start of classes.

Suddenly on a street leading toward the school, the crowd spotted four Negro adults, marching in twos down the center of the street.

A man yelled, "Look, here come the Niggers."

They were not pupils. One appeared to be a newspaperman. He had a card in his hat and was carrying a camera.

I jumped into a glass-windowed telephone booth on the corner. The scene was clearly visible. As the crowd surged toward the four Negroes, they broke and ran.

But they were caught, on the lawn of a home nearby. Whites jumped the man with the camera from behind, kicking and beating him. They smashed the camera.

This, obviously was a planned, diversionary movement to draw the crowd's attention away from the school.

While I was dictating what I saw, someone yelled: "Look, they're going into the school."

At that instant, the eight Negroes—three boys and five girls—were crossing the schoolyard toward a side door at the south end of the school.

The girls were in bobby sox and the boys were dressed in open shirts. All were carrying books.

They were not running not even walking fast. They simply strolled toward the steps, went up, and were inside before all but a few of the 200 people at that end of the street knew it.

Some did see the Negroes, however. "They've gone in," a man roared. "Oh, God, the Niggers are in the school!"

A woman screamed, "Did they get in? Did you see them go in?"

Tigers Drop 20-6 Contest to Pine Bluff

Yerger Tigers defeated Friday night by a score of 20 to 6 at Pine Bluff. Henry Reed went over from the 7 yard line in the initial quarter for the Hope eleven's only tally.

Pine Bluff waited until the second period before taking over. Aided by a couple of costly Yerger penalties and a 20-yard pass completion the Pine Bluff team scored and kicked the extra point to push ahead.

Yerger received and promptly fumbled it back. Again Pine Bluff took to the air for 37 yards and another score. The kick for point was good and Hope was behind 14 to 0 at the half.

The Tigers made four consecutive first downs before losing the ball in the third period. Pine Bluff marched down the field for their third tally. The fourth period was scoreless.

Turning in good defensive play for Hope was Shaw, Brandon McFadden, Holyfield, Rogers, Morrison, and Scott. Although losing Yerger netted 448 yards rushing, 120 in the air of three of eight passes completed. However, Pine Bluff completed six of eight passes and netted 593 yards from scrimmage.

Formalities All That Remains to Yanks, Braves

By ED CORRIGAN
Of The Associated Press

Only the formalities of crowning the New York Yankees kingpins of the American League and the Milwaukee Braves rulers of the National League remained to be taken care of today.

These details could be settled to-night when the Chicago White Sox play Kansas City and the Braves meet St. Louis.

The Yanks assured themselves of at least a tie for the AL flag yesterday when they whipped the Boston Red Sox.

If the Cards lose one of the three-game set with the Braves, they can start counting their second-phenom money.

The White Sox kept their faint hope alive yesterday by stopping the Cleveland Indians 9-5.

The Braves clubbed the Chicago Cubs 9-7, but the Cards stayed with them by halting Cincinnati 7-5.

Among the also-rans, Brooklyn defeated Philadelphia 7-3, and Pittsburgh vanquished New York 5-1 in the National League. In the American, Baltimore edged Washington 6-3, and Kansas City won a double-header from Detroit 4-3 and 2-1.

The Yanks walked to their victory over Boston. Four of their five runs were forced in through walks. Until the sixth inning, it was a close ball game.

Tom Williams had hit a home run in the fourth, the first hit of the game, and the Yanks had tied it in the fifth. Then with two out in the sixth, Tony Kubek and Jerry Lumpe singled.

Red Sox starter Dave Sisler, who had a 5-3 lifetime record against the Yanks—suddenly lost all semblance of control. He walked in succession, Enos Slaughter, Joe Collins, Hank Bauer and Gil McDougald, forcing in three runs.

Along came George Sussie and issued a pass to Mickey Mantle, forcing in the fourth run. Yogi Berra grounded out to end the parade.

Williams finished his day's chores with a 383 batting average, which virtually assures him of the batting championship. Mantle went hitless in three trips to the plate and his mark dipped to .365.

The White Sox, Braves and Cards won their games the hard way.

The Sox presented Billy Pierce with his 20th victory, but the little left-hander slipped in the back door. He was behind 3-2 when he was lifted for a pinch-hitter in the sixth. The Sox went on to score four runs in that inning, so Pierce got credit for the game.

The Braves employed half a dozen pitchers against the pesky Cubs and had to overcome deficits of four and three runs. Rookie Don McMahon, fifth of the parade, got credit for the triumph, although he needed help from Joey Jay after walking a couple of pinch hitters with one out.

The Braves were behind right up to the ninth when Eddie Mathews hit a home run to tie it. Then Hurricane Bob Hazle bashed another homer in the 10th and the ball game was over.

It took a six-run uprising in the seventh by the Cards to cut down Cincinnati. Still, the Redlegs weren't finished and they began to wake up again in the eighth, only to have relief pitcher Bill Muffett choke them off.

Pressure Brings Political Changes

By ED CREAUGH
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON, Sept. 23—Guess who said this on Sept. 17, 1957?

"We must give our whole support to the national defense cost what it may. We must announce our convictions that no price is too high to pay for the precious gift of national security."

Give up? Well the man who said this in a speech to the American Legion at Atlantic City N.J. this week is Louis A. Johnson, a former secretary of defense.

It is the same man who got bounced out of Harry S. Truman's Cabinet because his critics said he was pinching pennies too much.

There is no intention here to pick in Johnson because his views may have taken a 180-degree turn. The point is that times conditions and opinions do change.

Political pressures do too and this is something for Americans to be concerned about.

The past few years have seen backing and filling on defense policy to a degree that would have bordered on comic opera if the life or death of the nation hadn't been involved.

Pattern throughout the President's came president and many feared that a general in the White House would want guns and more guns even if the people didn't get any better.

As it turned out Eisenhower put great stress on economy. So much so that the Democrats in Congress kept offering more defense money than Eisenhower was willing to accept. This was the pattern throughout the President's first term.

Then came the second term and positions changed as in a game of musical chairs. The Democrats cried out against big spending and wouldn't give the President all he asked. Complicating matters it wasn't always possible for Congress to find out what he did want.

So this defense budget for the next few years turns out—as so often is the past—to be a political compromise.

Meanwhile the Russian claim that have a successful intercontinental missile. Eisenhower pretty much pooh-poohed the claim. This country fires off some big rockets of its own and cancels some other rocket development for lack of money.

Total confusion?

No, not total. There is a large measure of year-by-year understanding between the Pentagon and the committees of Congress which pass on military spending. Headline rows between Democrats and Republicans often obscure it, but it exists.

Is it great enough to insure an adequate defense in the future?

Or is there need for Eisenhower and the Democratic leaders of Congress to get together, lay the facts on the table between considerations what must be done?

Time is getting short.

Already at his Newport, R. I., vacation spot the President is going over the figures for the 1958-59 budget.

Already, looking to the 1958 congressional election, the Democrats are talking about a tax cut.

Ate Eisenhower and the Democrats speaking the same language on national defense. It seems doubtful. The best way they could find out would be to ask each other.

Robinson to Defend Title Tonight

By MURRAY ROSE
NEW YORK (AP) — Middleweight champion Sugar Ray Robinson defends his title tonight against Carmen Basilio in a "battle of champions" that could be quick and explosive.

The 30-year-old welterweight king from Chittenden, N. Y., is a 5-7 choice to dethrone the 36 or 37-year-old Sugar Ray in a fight scheduled for 15 rounds at Yankee Stadium. The betting is 1 to 3 the fight won't go the limit.

This is based on Basilio's aggressive, bouncy style and Robinson's vaunted sharp-shooting ability and preference for an opponent who comes to him.

And the heavier whalloping Robinson will have a weight edge of about eight pounds, 159 to 151, and a decided advantage in height (5-11 to 5-7 1/2) and reach (72 1/2 to 67).

Favoring Basilio is the Harlem dandy's age (Robinson says 36, the record book has it 37), and the question of whether he will be able to unload his bombs against a swarming opponent who will be tissing sticks of dynamite himself.

Sugar Ray always has had trouble with foes which crowd him especially those who can take a punch like Basilio. The ring-scarred Basilio never has been stopped in 70 fights and dropped only once, that early in his career.

Once again, the general feeling is that Sugar Ray will have to nail his iron-chinned foe within six rounds to win.

The sick here is Basilio within 12 rounds. We believe the ex-Marine will cut down his taller rival with thumping body blows, especially with his left hook.

The champs will share in a million dollar-plus gate with the theater-TV, radio and movies included. Robinson, on his 45 per cent of everything, and a $255,000 theater-TV guarantee, stands to collect about $500,000. Basilio, getting 20 per cent and a $110,000 guarantee for TV, should earn about $225,000.

The promoting International Boxing Club, lowering its sights from an earlier $750,000 gate prediction, now looks for a crowd of 35,000 and a gate of $600,000.

Basilio, a pro since 1949, predicted he would win that duplicate Robinson's unprecedented feat of winning the middleweight title while holding the welterweight crown. Robinson as usual, made no prediction.

A pro since 1940, Robinson has compiled an outstanding 140-5-2 record including 91 knockouts. Basilio has a 51-17 record including 26 knockouts.

Scoring will be by rounds with a supplementary point system also used to help break draws. The winner of each round gets from two to four points, the loser none. The referee and two judges will be named at fight time.

Desperate Cards Play The Braves

By JOE REICHLER
MILWAUKEE (AP) — The desperate St. Louis Cardinals prepared to clash with the league-leading Milwaukee Braves in the first of a three-game do-or-die series to-night, knowing that one slip could mean the end of the pennant dream.

The Braves, leading St. Louis by five games with only six remaining to play, can clinch their first National League championship with a victory tonight. Manager Fred Haney, who refused to admit the Braves are "in" until it becomes official, has entrusted the clinching assignment to Lew Burdette, his fidely right hander.

Burdette (16-9) will be opposed by Wilmer Vinegar Bend Mizell, the erratic left-hander, trans-formed from the biggest disappointment to the hottest hurler on the Cardinals. Although he has an 8-10 record, he has won seven of his last 10 decisions.

Except for Haney, the Braves are convinced they have the flag in the bag.

"There's no doubt in my mind now," said Warren Spahn after yesterday's 9-7 triumph over Chicago, the Braves' sixth victory in succession. "We're in The Cards and it's all over."

Yesterday's victory over the Cubs, after trailing 4-0 and 7-4, acted like a tonic to the players.

In the sort of opened up a valve for long loose all their pent up emotions and resultant anger has been bottled up ever since they moved into first place in early August.

"Tomorrow night's the night," exclaimed catcher Del Crandall.

DOGGS

CITY DOGS
By FARLEY MANNING

One often hears the opinion voiced, usually by someone who has never owned a dog, that dogs should be banned from large cities. These people often mean well, basing their opinion on the claim that city dogs have little chance to romp on the busy streets, that they lead a completely artificial life and are generally unhappy.

Perhaps the sharpest protests against any movement to exclude dogs from cities would come from the dogs themselves. Ever since Man abandoned the cave and moved into tents, finally into villages and cities, the dog has tagged along willingly and happily. He has never failed to adapt himself to Man's living conditions, for with the possible exception of Man himself, the dog is very likely the most adaptable of all creatures.

Band dogs from cities? Anyone who advocates this should watch a guide dog threading its way across a crowded street, giving the use of its own eyes to its sightless master and performing the job with that dedicated air which all guide dogs seem to assume. Or watch a child in a congested teeming district playing with his adoring puppy and learning for the first time, perhaps, that love and gentleness exist even in the grim and limited world of the slum.

Watch a minority likes it or not, chances are that the dog will remain a fixture in our cities as long as men choose to live in them. And if there's anything to all this talk about outer space, don't be surprised on the day the first man blasts off to settle in a new environment on Mars or the moon to see his dog zooming along with him, neatly encased in his own little space suit with just room enough to wag his tail!

Livestock Show Attraction

Lee Marx and Billie

CONTINENTAL favorites and a hit on any show, are Lee Marx and Billie, one of the feature attractions that will be seen on the stage in the Coliseum Tuesday and Wednesday nights. Essentially one would classify this act under the juggling category, but actually, Lee Marx and Billie are considered a unique and breath taking novelty attraction.

Will Emcee Stage Show Here

Bob McFadden

BOB McFADDEN will present his satirical impressions at the Third District Livestock Show Tuesday and Wednesday nights as he serves as Master of Ceremonies for the Stage Shows in the Coliseum.

To listen to his brand of humor would more than suffice in any show, and to hear his impressions of famous personalities would put a smile on the roughest face. In five years in show business, Bob has created more response and pleased more audiences, without a yawn, than most entertainers with prepared publicity.

All material used in his act is self-written. One of his most laugh provoking routines is his impression of famous people singing, which includes a "bit" on Winston Churchill doing a song.

Bob has appeared on the Arthur Godfrey Show, Courtesy Hour and Monitor, and has filled engagements at the brightest night clubs and hotels in the United States.

He is one of the nation's leading comedians as well as an excellent singer and satirist. Don't miss, "Stars of Radio and TV Variety" with Bob McFadden as M.C. in the Coliseum, Tuesday and Wednesday nights, September 24 and 25th.

in detail the plans for carrying out this project.

The bake sale is a money-making project and all members are asked to participate.

The Christmas party to be held on December 6th was also discussed.

Mrs. Roberts gave demonstrations on how to select materials and styles for each individual. Mrs. Williams, family life chairman, spoke on "Partnership and Family Living." Mrs. Wylie gave a demonstration on how to use a sweat-shirt to make a beautiful Mexican Jacket.

Mrs. Barnes received the surprise gift and she in turn gave two pretty gifts to two lucky people: Mrs. Mangram and Mrs. Williams.

The next meeting will be held on October 8th in Mrs. Glenon Huckabee's home with Mrs. C. T. Robinson as co-hostess. The program will be on Citizenship and related subjects.

Refreshments were served to the twelve members present and Mrs. Lorraine Wylie, Home Demonstration agent.

Autumn Makes

inch of rain fell at Binghampton and Albany, N. Y., in a six-hour period. Widely scattered showers were reported in the south — Atlantic Coast region with amounts ranging up to nearly an inch at Greensboro, N. C.

Torrential rains hit sections of Texas yesterday, with 3 1/2 inches along the Medina River north-west of San Antonio. Floods threatened the area.

"Who's going through?"

"We all are," the people shouted.

They broke over and around the wooden barricades, rushing the policemen.

About a dozen policemen were at that corner of the street.

They raised their clubs. Some grabbed men and women and hurled them back. Two chased a dark-haired man who slipped through their line like a football player. They caught him on the schoolyard, whipped his coat down his arms, pinning them, and hustled him out of the yard.

Another man wearing a construction worker's hard hat, suddenly raised his hands high in front of a policeman.

It was only a dozen yards or so in front of the phone booth. I couldn't see whether the officer had a gun in the man's stomach, but he stopped running, abruptly and went back.

Two men were arrested. A cavalcade of cars carrying Arkansas State Police wheeled into the street from both ends.

They came inside the barricades and a disorder was restored for a moment.

The weeping and screaming went on among the women.

A man said, "I'm going in there and get my kid out."

An officer grunted, "You're not going anywhere."

Two ambulances rolled up. Nobody was in them.

Suddenly, another roar — and cheering and clapping — came from the crowd. A white pupil, carrying his books, came down the front steps.

He was followed by two girls. In the next few minutes, other students came out. Between 15 and 20 left the school within next half hour.

Each time they appeared, the crowd clapped and cheered.

"Come on out," they yelled. "Don't stay in there with the niggers. Go back and tell all of them to come out."

Inside, it was reported, the eight Negro pupils were in the office of the principal.

"There's not much education going on inside there now," one of the boys who came out told reporters.

A moment later, two policemen raced into the building. When they came out, they were holding a girl by both arms, rushing her forcibly toward a police prisoner's wagon.

For an instant, it looked as though the crowd would try to break the police lines again to rescue her.

But they put her in the car and drove swiftly down the street, past the barricade at the south end.

Streams, catcalls and more yelling broke as the car, whipping dangerously close to the people and the barricades, raced down the street.

A man, distraught, came sprinting after it. "That's my kid in there," he yelled. "Help me get my kid out."

But the car was gone.

Soon afterward, four white pupils ran down the steps of the school and across the street. Policemen were chasing them.

One of the boys said they held caught a Negro boy outside the principal's office.

"We walked hi half the length of the building and we were going to get him outa there," they said.

They refuse to give their names.

A short, husky city policeman ripped off his badge, yelled, "I quit!" and walked off to cheers from the crowd. Photographers tried to take his picture but he lashed out at them with his high stick.

On the streets at both ends of the school, clusters of troopers took up stations, reinforcing the police.

The crowd heckled them, hurling insults and some obscenities. "How you going to feel tonight when you face your neighbors," a man shouted.

The people called the police "nigger lovers" and insulted them.

The officers stood, poker-faced making no move nor response.

any group of Negroes clashed with an angry crowd of whites today opening the way for nine Negro students to whisk into Central High School through a side door.

Reporters on the scene said when a man shouted "They've gotten through", women began weeping and men tried to break through the line of policemen.

A few minutes later a call came "all hell has broken loose."

One Negro was knocked down in the diversionary fight.

The crowd had been kept moving and tension was slack about the time classes were scheduled to start at 8:45 a. m.

Suddenly about five Negroes appeared in front of the school and the crowd started for them.

There was a brief fight in which blows were struck and then someone shouted "they've gotten in."

The students had slipped into the sprawling multi-storied building. They had been driven onto the school grounds in an automobile.

Women screamed and the crowd surged back toward the school. Officers knocked one man down with a billy club and grabbed another, one officer on each arm, and rushed them both from the area.

One of the diversionary forces, a Negro man carrying a small camera — was kicked and beaten by the crowd.

A call went out to state police for reinforcements and a large force of the troopers roared up in squad cars.
